

POLITICAL FIRE BURNS FIERCELY IN ILLINOIS TODAY

LOWDEN AND WOOD IN DEATH GRIPS FOR CONTROL OF ILLINOIS G. O. P. DE-LEGATION

BOTH MEN ARE CONFIDENT

Candidates Sure They Will Receive Voters' Endorsement—Chicago Vote Is Mystery to Political Dopesters

(By L. R. Blanchard)
By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Ill.—The red flare of old time politics and the political enthusiasm lighted Illinois skies today.

Campaign bands brayed a ballad for final political rallies in Chicago's streets; roorbacks began bursting about the ears of prominent candidates and last minute appeals kept job presses busy. Illinois tomorrow will denote her preference for the presidential nomination. The preference will not be binding upon delegates to the national convention.
These latter are yet to be selected when ward and precinct committees, elected tomorrow, choose state delegations and the state convention names the national delegates.

Illinois is divided into two main sections, Cook county and down-state. Cook county with about one-third the state vote.

The main show in the preferential vote will be the contest between Maj.
Gen. Leonard Wood and Gov. F. O.
Lowden in the republican party.
Aside from Wood, republican candidates observed a favorite son courtesy by leaving the state to Lowden.
Among democrats there is no well defined contest. Candidates were nominated here but withdrew before the lists were closed.

Both Lowden and Wood headquarters today issued brave statements regarding the outcome of the primaries.

The candidates covered the state thoroughly in stumping tours. Low-den closing his campaign with informal speeches here today. General Wood left for the east.

Among political dopesters there was a tendency to concede Lowden a better chance to capture the down-state vote. Cook county, with the republican machinery, believed dominated by Mayor William Hale Thompson, was uncertain. Lowden men said the governor worried little over the Chicago votes, being confident of reaching the county line with an overwhelming majority. The strength of the two candidates was observed in Cook county by the strenuous contest between three factions to obtain full control of the ward committees.

General Wood's committee, asserting an effort was made to inject ancient racial and religious prejudices in the battle, issued a statement on his affiliations and his tolerance of others.

Senator Hiram Johnson, enroute to Nebraska for the primary campaign there, paused here long enough to sniff at the money spent in the Illinois fray. Johnson men urged voters to write the senators' name in the ballot, adding one more angle to the race.

GERMAN STOWAWAY WANTS TO REMAIN IN AMERICA

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Peñfield, Ill.—Bernard Garsden, 18, who fled from Germany last October to evade service against American troops and who stowed away from Holland, has been arrested at the home of his uncle, Richard Aitman, rich farmer here, and declares he won't go back to Germany. "I want to stay in America," he pleads.
"It's the best country." He hid on a pile of mattresses on a cargo boat from Holland and beat his way to Boston where his uncle sent him here. He speaks English, learned in German schools. He has no love for Germany. Immigration officials plan to send him back.

UPRISING IN GUATEMALA THREATENS U. S. LEGATION

Washington—Unionist forces have seized Guatemala City from President Cabrera and a small guard of United States Marines has been landed from the cruisers Tacoma and Niagara for protection of the American legation, the state department announced today.

The state department has sent instructions to Benton McMillin, United States minister to Guatemala, to do all he can to compose the situation.

There has been street fighting between Unionists and Cabrera forces, according to state department advice.

Cabrera's forces with artillery, hold important strongholds near Guatemala City, including Matamoros, San Jose and LaLima.

SPENCER ROAD MUDHOLE KEEPS FARMERS BUSY

Farmers living on the Badger school house road in Grant Chute, near the Spencer road, had a busy day yesterday pulling automobiles out of the mud. The road looks inviting but as soon as a car gets into it, trouble results. It appears that the road has not been given attention since last year and the advice of those who have tried to pass over it is to detour until conditions improve.

WILSON MAY TAKE HAND IN STRIKE OF RAIL SWITCHMEN

TUMULTUOUS ENDEAVORS TO REACH
ATTORNEY GENERAL PAL-MER AFTER VISIT WITH PRESIDENT

WANT ACTION ON BOARD

Wage Adjustment Board Will Be Adopted Soon—Justice Department Not Sure If Lever Law Is Applicable to Strike

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Possible government action to end the railroad strike today apparently centered about President Wilson.

J. T. Tamm, secretary of president, saw Wilson today and immediately after tried to get in touch by telephone with Atty. General Palmer.
Senator Cummins, chairman of senate interstate commerce committee and W. S. Doak, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, called at the White House.

Cummins announced he had received assurances that the wage adjustment board provided in the Esch-Cummins railroad law, will be adopted today or tomorrow.

Should Meet in Washington
He then called a meeting of the interstate commerce commission to consider the situation. He said he proposed to have the commission report an amendment to the railroad law which would permit the wage adjustment board to get to work in Washington as soon as appointed.
Under the law as now drawn the board's headquarters would be in Chicago.

"If we change the law slightly," said Cummins, "the board could get to work in Washington immediately where it would have available all the data and records that are necessary. I think if the board is appointed at once there will be no trouble about getting the men back to work because they will know that their claims are going to be passed upon."

Cummins said it would be impossible for the commission to go ahead with its investigation of the strike until the wage board has been appointed and started to work.

No witnesses have as yet been unmanned to appear before the commission.

Government officials who last week were doubtful about necessity for federal action to end the strike, today compared the situation to the one existing during President Cleveland's administration, when soldiers were used to keep the mails moving.

That the strike might be a move to force the railroads back under government control was another official opinion expressed.

Differ on Lever Law

Washington—A difference of opinion existed today among justice department legal experts as to whether the Lever Law, which prohibits conspiracies to impede destruction of necessaries of life, could be invoked in prosecution of railroad strike leaders. Administration officials felt that some action would have to be taken quickly but refused to predict what it would be.

There is no chance for mediation, according to G. W. Hanger, agent of the United States board of mediation and conciliation who reported upon his return from Chicago where he investigated the strike. Hanger said the crisis had been brought about by a fight between two unions and that the "outlaw" union has no country-wide organization, so far as he could learn. He believes the strikes in other parts of the country following the original Chicago walkout, were inspired by the Chicago strike but not actually ordered by the men behind it.
Hanger returns to Chicago today to continue his investigation.

A. V. General Palmer returned to Washington today and was expected to formulate a definite policy, which will be followed by the government agencies in dealing with the strike.

CAMPAIGNS HALF OVER BUT WINNER IS STILL IN DARK

LEADING ASPIRANTS FOR RE-PUBLICAN NOMINATION UN-ABLE TO WIN A COMMANDING LEAD

WOOD AND LOWDON CLOSE

Army Officer and Illinois Governor
Both Claim to be in the Lead —Johnson Has Hopes for New Jersey's Endorsement

(By Harold D. Jacobs)
By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—The pre-convention race is at the half way post with the winners of the presidential nominations of the two major parties apparently as far from determination as at the start.

The process of selecting delegates to the national conventions began in February when Oklahoma picked its representatives. The republicans will wind up their work late next month while the democrats will still be at it a week before their convention in June.

None Have Real Lead
None of the candidates in either party has succeeded in attaining a commanding lead, either in instructed delegates or in unpledged delegates whose apparent preference for a certain man is admitted by his rivals.

The Illinois primary tomorrow,
however, with 58 delegates at stake, will have an important bearing on the strength of Gov. F. O. Lowden and Major General Leonard Wood, who are the leading republican candidates to date, on basis of delegates pledged and claimed. They are the only two republicans on the ballot there. Wood has 57 instructed delegates; Senator Hiram Johnson has 40 and Lowden has 12. But their claims would make the present standing: Wood 91; Lowden 70; Johnson 68. A victory for Lowden would put him in the van, whereas Wood, by carrying the governor's home state, would have a comfortable margin for the first time in the campaign.

Democrats Lay Law

As regards the democrats Illinois appears to be anybody's state. Herbert Hoover, who has definitely declared he will not accept the democratic nomination continues to lead with 33. Claims by friends of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, however, give him the advantage with 68.

The New Jersey primary, April 27, will find the republican battle between Wood and Johnson. The latter, who is now campaigning in Nebraska, completed a tour of New Jersey last week. Today his eastern manager, Angus McSwen, established headquarters in Newark. Senator Borah of Idaho and former Senator Weeks of Massachusetts, will stump the state for Johnson and it is possible the latter will return to the state for one or two additional speeches before the primary. Campaigning for Wood will be by three former governors, Stokes, Runyon and Griggs; Prof. Robert McElroy of Princeton University; Senator Moses of New Hampshire and Frank Raymond of New York, who cast a ballot for Wood in 1916.

Edwards Is Strong

The democrats have made practically no campaign in New Jersey. The allegiance of the state naturally is expected to go to Governor Edwards, leading "wet" advocate who ran a close second to Hoover in the Michigan primary. Palmer also has undoubted strength in the state.

The Nebraska primary, April 20, is expected to signalize the appearance of General John J. Pershing as a republican candidate. A strong campaign having been made for him by his friends in that state.

ICE IS STILL PILED ALONG THE LAKE SHORE

By United Press Leased Wire

Cottage owners who visited the lake yesterday claim that the ice is now all out, but that it is still piled ten feet high on shore at places.
Quite a number of trees were broken off by the ice, but very little damage was done to the cottages. On account of the house shortage in Appleton the cottages will be occupied earlier this season than other summers.

U. S. DEFRAUDED OUT OF MILLIONS BY CAMP BUILDERS

CRIMINAL PROSECUTIONS AND SUITS TO RECOVER $78-000,000 URGED BY THE PROBE COMMITTEE

BLAME COST PLUS PLAN

System of Granting Contractors a Profit Based on Cost of Construction Is Scored—Place Blame on Secretary Baker

(By Herbert Walker)
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Criminal prosecutions by the department of justice and suits to recover $78,000,000 alleged to represent government losses through fraud, waste and extravagance in the cost-plus system of contracts for building the 16 national army cantonments, were demanded today in a report to the house by the sub-committee on camps and cantonments of the war department expenditures committee.

The report which was the result of a year's investigation, recommends an amendment to the constitution making profiteering in war time treason and legislation to prohibit all cost-plus contracts. Representative McKeezie, Illinois, and Representative McCulloch, Ohio, republican members of the sub-committee signed the report while Representative Doremus, Michigan member, in a minority report, declared there was found "very little" evidence of fraud and had the cost-plus system not been adopted "the Germans would have been in Paris before our soldiers reached the battle-lines."

50 Per cent Loss

Of all camps and hospitals built during the war at a cost of approximately $1,200,000,000, the majority report estimates that the alleged loss to the government from fraud and extravagance due to the cost-plus system ranged from 30 to 50 per cent. The committee audited the contracts of the 16 national army camps and claims that the loss to the government was $78,000,000 out of a total of $206,000,000. Skilled contractors have gone over the accounts and determined these figures, which should be recovered for the treasury, the report says.

Responsibility for the losses is placed on Secretary of War Baker, who is said by the majority of the sub-committee to have approved the contracts both as head of the war department and the council of national defense.

The majority report gives scores of instances of alleged waste in the cost-plus system and specifically charges A. Bentley and Sons Company who held the contracts for Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio, with receiving illegal payments to the extent of $169,372.79.

"Some of the most glaring examples of waste of public funds are found at Camp Sherman and Camp Grant, Ill.," the report claims.

A table is given showing the amount the war department paid for the sixteen national army camps and the proper cost as determined by the committee. It shows the following alleged losses:

What U. S. Lost

Camp Lee, Va., $7,243,149; Camp
Meade, Md., $7,073,327; Camp Upton, N. Y., $5,810,911; Camp Grant, Ill., $5,570,076; Camp Pike, Ark.,
$5,132,031; Camp Custer, Mich., $5,
086,649; Camp Sherman, Ohio, $5,
034,096; Camp Dix, N. J., $4,981,

Camp Devens, Mass., $4,681,329;
Camp Funston, Kans., $4,451,897;

Camp Dodge, Iowa, $3,928,745;
Camp Lewis, Wash., $3,507,939;

Plot To Split Germany Into Parts Feared

Military Leader in Von Kapp Revolt
Said to be Active in New Move —French Charged With Trying to Divide Country

By United Press Leased Wire
Berlin.—Reports of a new reactionary plot and a movement to declare the secession of the south German states, led by Bavaria, continued current here today.

Baron General Von Luetwitz, military leader of the Von Kapp revolution, was reported active in the new reactionary movement. The Prussian commissioner of public order admitted he had been advised that the plotters had armed students, who were to be among the active forces in the proposed uprising.
The government said it had taken measures to prevent disorders.

The socialist newspapers Voerwaerts and Freiheit both warned of an impending insurrection declaring the most energetic measures should be taken and that the public should be fully informed regarding the new danger.

The situation in the Ruhr district, where Reichswehr troops have been pulling down the communist uprising, was reported quiet. Officials said the Allies had agreed to permit Germany to retain twenty battalions of troops in this zone. Under the August agreement these troops would have been withdrawn April 10.

The Lokal Anzeiger today charged that France was attempting to separate north and south Germany.
The newspaper understood the French intended to carry their occupation further and that French troops were marching on Aachenburg.

Some civilians were reported wounded in clashes with French troops at Darmstadt. France has demanded ten thousand marks, several bicycles and revolvers as damages for an attack on a French bicycle patrol in the occupied area.

AIR CHARGE THAT U. S. BULLETIN WAS "LOOTED"

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington, D. C.—Presentation to the senate today of the reports of the joint committee on printing, containing criticism of George Creel, Roger W. Babson and others, was expected to be made the occasion for an airing of the affairs of the late commission on public information.

Creel, former chairman of committee was criticized in the report for the manner in which the "Official Bulletin," the government newspaper published during the war, was transferred to Roger Babson, financial expert. Edward S. Rochester, editor of the Bulletin, is also denounced in the report. It is alleged that through Rochester's manipulations and with assent of Creel, Bal-linton got possession of the Bulletin without paying anything for it.

The report also charged: "When it became evident to Creel and Rochester that the bulletin was not to be continued as a governmental organ, there seems to have been deliberate effort to loot this $600,000 a year publication."

BOI CHERT'S DOUGH WILL PUT BREWERS IN CHAMP LINEUP

WILL SPEND GREENBACKS FOR MAJOR LEAGUE PLAYERS TO MAKE MILWAUKEE PLAY
TOP SEASON

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Milwaukee, Wis.—Otto Borchert, wealthy president of the Milwaukee club, has gone on record as saying that in addition to the $11,000 spent on new material for the Brewers this year some more of his greenbacks would make a trip to the major league clubs if necessary to make Milwaukee a winner.

Manager Jack Egan can't dope a second division club out of the array of talent he is working with this spring. The athletes spent a week at Evansville, Ind., and convinced Egan they ought to play the season around the top.

Another high-class outfielder and southpaw is being sought. Egan is dickering with the Cardinals for a pair he wants.

On paper the Milwaukee infield sounds like a big league ball club.

Here they are: Del Gainer, erst-while first sacker for the Detroit Tigers; Artie Butler, second base, formerly with St. Louis; Jimmy Cooney, late of the New York Giants, at short, and Jimmy Smith, the sorrel-topped third sacker, who was with the Dodgers when they won the gonfalon.

Fly chasers are wanted badly, however, Paul Smith, the Giant obtained in the deal with the Boston Red Sox, is the only outfielder to report for duty. The St. Louis Nationals have promised Egan an outfielder who together with Smith and George Orme, a star at Flint, Mich., last year, should round out the aggregation for the opening on April 14.

The Brewers have three dependable right-handers in Earl Howard, Lou North and Jake Northrup. North made a good record in the Western League last year. Northrup comes from the Braves. Douglas McWeeney was a "hot dog" in the Three-Eye circuit in 1919 and may be able to curve 'em across at Association speed this year.

"What we want now is a dependable portsider, and if money can buy one, the Brewers will make a home brew with a 'kick' in it before we finish up our 168-game schedule," says Egan.

ANTI-STRIKE LAW DEFIED BY KANSAS. MINE UNION HEADS

LAW HELD TO BE NOTHING SHORT OF SLAVERY—WALK-OUT WILL BRING ISSUE TO SHOWDOWN

(By Mabel Abbott)
(Special to Post-Crescent)
Pittsburg, Kas.—I came here with Kansas' New Industrial Court to witness its first visit to this, the sorest industrial spot in a state that has passed one of the most drastic anti-strike laws ever written.

The first day the court held a session 2000 coal miners struck—beg pardon—happened to quit work. It certainly was a remarkable coincidence.

What will come of this crucial test of the state's power to enforce the anti-strike provisions of its new industrial law or of the miners' open defiance of the law, I cannot tell.

But the stage setting here in Pittsburg as the state and the miners faced each other, is, I think important to a clear understanding of the Kansas effort to set a pattern for all the other states in the matter of handling industrial problems.

13,000 Miners Here
Pittsburg is the center of the coal field that covers almost all of two counties and part of another and runs over into Missouri. Nearly 13,000 men who work in the mines hereabouts are members of District 14, United Mine Workers, with headquarters in Pittsburg.

The passage of the industrial court law, forbidding strikes, undoubtedly was partly due to last winter's coal strike, in which Pittsburg fields were prominent because of their importance.

Announcement of its passage was followed instantly by another strike at Pittsburg, which lasted only a day. Alexander Howat, President of District 14, has declared the law makes slaves of the miners and that he will call a strike when he sees fit.

"But in this case the men are acting independently," said Howat. "They have had no organization."

"They are dissatisfied with the awards of the federal commission." "The state will take no action against the men if the strike does not last more than a day or two," was the opinion of Atty. Gen. Hopkins.

What Miners Say
"I have questioned many of the miners and every one denies positively that the walk-out has any relation to the court's presence in Pittsburg," said Judge W. E. Huggins, chairman of the court.

"And it is a noticeable fact that not one of the miners subpoenaed as witnesses has failed to appear. It is only the leaders who are defiant." The courtroom is crowded every day, principally with pit committees from the various mine locals. The court-house is only half a block from the building—one of the best on Pittsburg's main street in which Howat and other officials of the district 14 have their offices.

The two viewpoints—that a man has a right to strike and that he has not a right to strike are face to face. It looks as if it had come to a showdown between Alex Howat, president of District 14, United Mine Workers and the state of Kansas.

Howat was subpoenaed before the Kansas industrial court to appear Tuesday morning. He went to the court house, but instead of going to the court room, he attended a small meeting of union officials in a private room, and then while the court waited for him he left the building. The investigation proceeded without him, but in an atmosphere of suppressed excitement. He sat in his office all day.

"I decided not to appear," he said. "I won't go unless they send a warrant for me. We don't recognize the court." An order was secured from the district court ordering him to obey the subpoena. "He will come in or be brought in tomorrow," said Judge Huggins.

RADIUM WATER SOLVES CAMP PROBLEM FOR BLUES

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Claremore, Okla.—The Kansas City Blues finally found a training camp that suited them. They tried Georgia, Texas, California, Arkansas, Kansas and other warm spring climates. There was something the matter with them all.

Manager Alex McCarthy and Owner Muebach believe that Claremore, Okla., just about answers everything players need to get into shape in the early spring days.

Around the Indian country the native braves refer to this point on the map as the "Second Hot Springs." Radium waters put it on the resort list.

Located in the palm of a broad valley in Rogers co., surrounded in the distance by hills and woods, it boasts of something more than radium baths and sunshine. It has paved streets and everything—that is, it is up-to-date.

A few years ago drillers got radium water instead of oil. The water was mixed with minerals in correct proportions by Doc Nature and was just laying there bottled up by Mother Nature waiting to treat lame arms and charley horses, besides being a panacea for malaria, stomach trouble, et cetera.

If the Kaws were blue about their chances of landing near the top in the American Association when they came here they soon got it out of their systems after soaking in and gargling the radium waters.

The Blues are in need of some pitchers. They graduated too many last year.

FICKLE FANS JEER AND CHEER $150,000 CLOUTER YESTERDAY

BABE RUTH GETS TASTE OF RAZZING WHEN HE STRIKES OUT BUT PLAUDITS
COME LATER

(By Henry Farrell)
By United Press Leased Wire

New York—Its not new. Volumes have been written about it. Sermons have been preached on it. Morals have been drawn from it. But the baseball fan will be fickle.

One minute the stands moan with the rumble of a razz heaped upon a fallen idol of the field. The next minute the same voices strain their vocal chords whooping it up in applause.

One of the most colorful instances happened yesterday in Brooklyn. It happened to Babe Ruth.

Early in the game he was buried under sarcastic abuse. He was razzed and ridden. But in the ninth inning, calling him the "greatest of the great," the crowd swept on the field before the frame was finished and the game had to be called.

New York and baseball in general had been expecting much of the champion home run hitter. The Yankee colonels paid close to $150,000 for him and the fans were expecting swats to the last penny's worth. He didn't deliver in the expected manner and the tongue wagged. Fifteen thousand fans were out yesterday principally to see the long distance clouter. He didn't knock any over the fence in batting practice and the fans got set to howl.

The howl came mildly at the Babe's first appearance when he was presented with a hit by Myer's misjudgment in center field. The next time, in the fourth inning when he was struck out by Al Mannux, it was released in a flood.

"Throw that club in the ash barrel," "take out the bushel," "You're a big bust" came at the Babe as he walked to the bench.

He didn't go over into the stands after them but he did recently down south. He kept his head down and plodded to the dugout with the big sled, dragging in the dust.

In the fifth inning it all changed. The jeers turned to cheers as the $150,000 Babe rapped one to center for a triple and he was the "peach." "King of 'em all" and all of the choice terms of the fans' category.

Before the third out could be completed in the ninth the fans swept out of the stands onto the field and surrounded their idol. The game was called and the Babe made his way from the park with the greatest difficulty.

The Cold That Hangs On

This is No. 5 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the air passages—such as Pneumonia, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Measles or even a long continued Cold—often leave these organs in an inflamed, congested state, thus affording a favorable foothold for invading germs. And how Vick's Vapo-Rub may be of value in this condition.

A cold is simply an inflammation of some part of the air passages—throat, larynx or bronchial tubes—just like a sore is an inflammation of the skin. A long continued cold means constant inflammation and this constant inflammation frequently weakens the air passages so that they become an easy point of attack for invading germs of more serious diseases. A "cold that hangs on," therefore, is simply nature's "red flag" indicating that there is "trouble below," and this warning should never be neglected.

Nightly applications of Vick's Vapo-Rub will aid nature to clear up that inflammation. Because Vicks acts locally by stimulation thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots and relieve the cough. In addition, the medicinal ingredients of Vicks are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, thus bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas.

Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying, swallow a small bit of Vicks the size of a pea.

Samples to new users will be sent free on request to The Vick Chemical Company, 235 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.

Here at the Peerless factory we have tried to perform each day's work so that as a part of our past it should become also a guarantee as to our future.

"History," says Carlyle, "is the essence of innumerable biographies." The history of Peerless is written in the lives of the individual members of this closely-knit organization, in their ideals and the processes by which they have attained their ideals.

For we have gone about our tasks here in an orderly manner, each to his own, but all focused constantly upon the goal of better motor cars; without the unhealthy haste induced by a desire for quantity production, but carefully, scientifically, efficiently.

For more than eighteen years we have built every Peerless car entire in this plant—that is why the Peerless is, in the finest workmanlike sense of the word, a unit, and not an assemblage of disassociated units.

For the past five years, since the development of the two-power-range, eight-cylinder principle which has made Peerless famous, we have not seen fit to make a single fundamental change in the design of the car which has answered instantly and enduringly every demand made by the exigencies of motoring, and from past accomplishment we are content that our future shall be judged.

THE WRONG WAY TO MAKE PEACE

The house has passed a joint resolution to declare war with Germany at an end by a vote of 242 to 150. The measure will now go to the senate where it undoubtedly will be adopted. On the showing made in the house the resolution cannot be passed over the president's veto, and it is a foregone conclusion that Mr. Wilson will not approve this method of making peace with Germany.

We hope the movement to terminate the war in this manner will not be successful. A senate which will ratify neither a treaty of peace submitted to it, nor one of its own making, has no business terminating war without any treaty of peace. So far as the house is concerned it has no business lending itself to such an evasion of power and responsibility.

The move to end the war by resolution of congress is politics. We have had little but politics in the consideration of the question of peace from almost the beginning. The scheme to declare a separate peace without terms or conditions is a sacrifice of both moral and material interests which saner heads than it is possible to find in congress just now ought to prevent. The treaty fight has reached a point where consequences other than as they effect the November election are given small consideration.

So far as this newspaper is concerned it trusts the president will veto this resolution and that the majority in congress will find itself unable to pass it over his veto.

WHAT THE BOY SCOUT REALLY IS

The Boy Scout movement is before the country. Just now it is occupying the attention of practically every city in a common and united effort to realize out of this organization the maximum possibilities it offers for creating better American manhood and better American citizenship. We have before us a brief article on the subject written by Dr. Frank Crane, entitled "The Largest Boys' Club in the World." It is so accurate and so stimulating a definition of the Boy Scout that we present a portion of it to our readers:

The Boy Scout organization is the largest boys' club in the world. If your boy is of suitable age you should let him join. I do not say you should make him join. All healthy boys are as eager to get into this club as a monkey is eager to get sugar. Many people alive to the danger of encouraging war ideas, are afraid this movement will tend to increase the poison of militarism in the youth. It takes only a little acquaintance with the ideals taught and the practices employed by the Boy Scouts to dispel this error.

To be sure the scheme is military. There is a deal of good in military training. Some day the whole business world will be coordinated in military efficiency.

The good consists in the discipline, team play, manliness, and grit developed by military exercises.

There is no reason why an army should be autocratic, caste-ridden and tyrannical. Composed of democratic ideals, where each unit intelligently forges his individual will for the benefit of organized efficiency, an army is vastly more effective than where soldiers are whipped to battle and browbeaten in time of peace.

I would like to see every boy in the United States belong to the Boy Scouts.

They would learn manliness.

They would increase their personal effectiveness.

They would cease to be sorry for themselves and learn to bear failure, physical hurt or any pain of body or mind, as men should bear such things, bravely.

They would learn to despise the very things that nation wars are based on, such as race hate, narrow and deformed patriotism, cruelty, and selfishness.

They would learn to be self-reliant, to be clean, strong, frank, kind and generous.

The Boy Scouts are not soldiers in the making; they are men, citizens, in the making.

They are taught and drilled in these arts: To help the unfortunate, to aid the wounded, to save the drowning, to take care of themselves, doing their own cooking, washing and camping; to tie a knot, to chop a tree, to tell the truth and to live in the open air, to be respectful, reverent, and fearless, and above all, to be good sports, which means to take defeat or success as real men and not as cry-babies.

The Boy Scouts organization is the great outdoor school, and, best of all, it is a great school of democracy where the boys manage themselves. There is a strong appeal in this definition and description of the Boy Scout. It is an appeal which carries home to every parent with a son eligible to membership. In fact, it reaches everybody because everything in it is as true as gospel and as sound as the American dollar. It is so good it is compelling. We cannot read that definition without feeling sorry for the lad who is not a Boy Scout, and cannot help but wish every youth in America were in this organization. The opportunity to assist in putting hundreds of thousands of boys into the movement is now before the country, and it will soon be brought to each individual.

THE RAILROAD PROBLEM

One of the clearest statements we have yet seen touching railroad conditions is that made last week by Mr. H. C. Cheyney, division freight and passenger agent of the C. & N. W. railway for northern Wisconsin and upper Michigan. It is well that everyone should understand something of the troubles of the railroad because everyone is concerned. The movement of freight and railroad service of every description affects each individual directly or indirectly.

Mr. Cheyney shows that the railroads were turned back to the owners by the government in a very poor condition. There are at least 100,000 fewer box cars today than there were before the war. Motive equipment was received in a low state of efficiency. This fact is reflected in Mr. Cheyney's statement that the Northwestern railroad has sent fifty locomotives to the American Locomotive works for repairs, and will send fifty more in a short time. Because of the time required for transition of industry from a war to a peace basis, the railroads have had great difficulty in securing material with which to make repairs and replacements. It simply has not been available.

With these conditions handicapping the railroads as they do there has been at the same time an excessive demand for service. The Northwestern railroad in March handled 21,500 more cars of its own and from connecting roads than during the same period last year. It also met an emergency during extreme cold weather where it had to find cars and locomotives to handle 2,700 cars of coal. Demands by commodity shippers are way ahead of what they were last year, and manufacturers are resorting to every possible device to get their products to the market to take advantage of the high prices which prevail.

It is obvious from the facts given by Mr. Cheyney that the Northwestern Railroad company is doing everything within its power and its resources to meet this extraordinary situation. Mr. Cheyney is kind enough to other properties to say that their problems and efforts are the same as those of his company. The owners are not to be blamed for the condition and deficiencies of the railroads at the time of return by the government. They simply were allowed to run down and that is all there is to it. Responsibility for the existing situation attaches to the federal authorities. There is no doubt but what the railroads are doing the best they can to extricate themselves from the troubles entailed by government operation. But this will take time and the public will have to be patient. If anyone were inclined to question the advisability of congressional guarantee of earnings or of other financial cooperation and assistance by the government, pending a rehabilitation of the railroads, that person would be less disposed to such a view if he understood more about conditions of the railroads and their causes.

KING'S REMARK MAY CAUSE FALL OF CABINET

Tokyo.—All of Japan, at least the part that takes an interest in politics, is interested in a scandal which has led Viscount Uchida, Minister for Foreign Affairs, and the most important members of his staff to indicate to the government that if their resignations are wanted, they are willing to step out.

This action follows a certain form of "near-regeneration," which accords with Japanese custom, but for which there is no corresponding word in English. It is a step only little removed from an actual resignation, and the affair is regarded as a very serious matter. As soon as it became known that the foreign office was on the verge of an explosion, much speculation was indulged in, and this was heightened when the premier asked the house of peers to refrain from taking up the matter in interpellations or otherwise. The fact that this advice was strictly followed added to the significance of the situation, and when this was followed by strict injunctions from the police, served on the newspapers, forbidding them from publishing certain matters relating to foreign politics, the public stood on tiptoe.

Various guesses have been indulged in, the disagreement between the foreign office and the ministry of war with regard to the Siberian situation being a favorite one, but it is, as a matter of fact, certain that the question involved is one of international politics, namely no less than a remark which King George of England is said to have made to Prince Saloni, Japan's chief delegate to the Paris peace conference, when he called at the British court on his way home to Japan.

It is said Prince Saloni reported on his return that King George had told him that he was opposed to any efforts being made for the extradition and trial of the Kaiser. The foreign office gives out periodically to certain favored persons and institutions a sort of bulletin on current events, and the remarks of the king were given as they had been reported by Saloni. Now it appears that this was "spilling the

Since the Searle Case We Are Careful to Avoid Arguments

Having acquired some skill in manipulating the pointer on her borrowed ouija board, Katherine Miller invited Chrys and me to a little seance in her wonderful boudoir of a thousand circles. I was perfectly delighted to have such a grand opportunity to carry on a little psychic research of my own.

"If Katherine is going to parade her subconscious self, there's no reason why I should refuse to witness the exhibition," I said to Bob.

"Such hush! Janet! Such a waste of time!" "It's only a joke with me, Bob. You know I'm only out for my little share of the season's most fashionable frivolity!"

"It's not taken trivially by everybody. Why, at 'Z'—" "Z," he named a world-famous bookstore, "I saw a counter piled higher than my head with new mystic literature. And the pile was labelled 'advanced thought!' I gave the books the once over. Authors mostly new to me, but I agreed with the label. Their thought had certainly 'advanced' beyond the barriers of the unknown. But most of the authors spoke quite positively, my dear. For the love of truth, drop this ouija demerol, darling!"

"As a total unbeliever, I'm as much out of it as you are, Bob. I simply want to see Katherine reveal herself. I want to prove my theory," I insisted.

"Haven't you a particle of conscience, Jane?" Bob asked severely.

"None!" I said, with a pout and a little girl coyness, which always fascinates him.

He gathered me up in his arms and we ended our differences with a hug. Since our last awful trouble over the Searle letters we are both mighty careful to avoid an argument.

Chrys and I found Katherine Miller arrayed in a creation which harmonized with her background. The feature of her costume was a smock or over-bloss of the latest mode. I had seen the garment in shop window and it was marked "13 & War Tax." I had studied it and I knew that any clever girl could duplicate the thing for about $13—and no tax! It was merely a black satin slip-on with sleeves which stouped above the elbow in the new way. It reached to the hips, where it was bound by a sash which looked exactly like a fichu which had slipped out of place and twisted to one side.

The pointed neck of the blouse and all the edges of sleeves and sash and hem were coarsely buttonholed with jade green wool. That decoration would have satisfied most women, but the imagination of the designer had run riot in this case and had sprinkled the garment irregularly with disks of variegated rainbow-hued satin! They were the size of small oranges and were buttonholed to the satin with the jade green wool.

"Goodness me! I could cut it out without a pattern," I said after we had exclaimed to the wearer's satisfaction. "Any girl could make one like it out of two yards of satin. That sash is merely the gores of silk which were trimmed to shape the side seams. And the blouse could be made out of airplane linen, or figured voile, or pongee or—almost any old remnant!"

"Jane, you should have been a dressmaker," said Chrys. "You always get so much fun finding out how clothes are put together!"

Perhaps the trend of our thoughts was too frivolous to suit the denizens of the spirit world. Some unfortunate influence made it difficult for Katherine to evoke a dignified "control." I had begun to feel horribly bored after half an hour of futile inquiry, made by the ouija pointer, and I was about to excuse myself and depart when I saw Katherine Miller stiffen suddenly and sit up as straight as a poker, while her dainty, pink finger tips pushed the pointer from letter to letter of the ouija board.

beans" with a vengeance. It is not known who protested, whether the original kick came from the British ambassador or from Prince Saloni, but it is likely that the latter was the complainant. As the thing stands, the powers that be admit a serious blunder has been committed by the foreign office, and that the foreign minister, and especially the director of political affairs bureau, are the "goats."

This version receives practical confirmation in one of the police notices issued to the newspapers, as follows:

"It is requested that no article regarding the audience granted by King George of England to Marquis Saloni, during his stay in London, be published, as the foreign office deems it injurious to the relationships between Japan and England."

As a consequence of this notice, the newspapers have been extremely guarded in their discussion of the affair. One of them, the Niroku, said: "The foreign office is in serious commotion owing to a question of grave responsibility. It is true that the foreign office authorities have made a serious blunder; if a protest is made by certain countries, the matter will assume serious national importance and the government will have to step down. The question involved is serious enough to compel the resignation of the government, but the opposition should cooperate with the authorities to remedy the case, especially as the diplomatic authorities are repentant of their carelessness and are going to apologize by offering as a victim the director of the political affairs bureau."

In the same connection it is significant that Foreign Minister Uchida a short time ago, in response to an interpellation in the house, stated that there were substantial reasons why the Kaiser should be held responsible for originating the great war, and for this reason Japan had agreed to the insertion in the peace treaty of the clause relating to his punishment.

CHI PHI BOYS EARLY RISERS

Columbus.—Chi Phi fraternity men at Ohio State University have no excuse for missing 9 o'clock classes.

Uncle Sam, from the Arlington towers in Virginia, calls them by wireless and an alarm clock every day at 8 A. M.

By using springs of four double-decker beds as aerial, David H. Gerhard, a freshman, has rigged up a wireless outfit in the fraternity dormitory. Each morning when the government sends out the time call at 8 A. M., the buzzing of the wireless instrument sets off an alarm clock, giving the rising signal.

SPRING CLEANING

The Inevitable
 I don't want to go out of the spring.
 Out of the summer or autumn fair.
 I just want to stay and live o'er and o'er.

All the sweet common things of yore
 As the seasons swing in joyful maze,
 With silvery nights and golden days.

I don't want ever to go out in the dark,
 Away from the sunshine and meadow lark;

Away from the drift of applebloom,
 The flutter of leaves and the bee's soft croon;

The spring's groon flood, the summer glow,
 The first of autumn, the drift of snow.

I don't care to know another sphere;
 I want just to go out of the spring.
 I want to live over and over the days,
 Spring's rosy flush and autumn's blue haze;

I want lives and lives to live just here,
 Over and over, each one a peer.

I want to have sight so perfect then
 I may see all the good in lives of men,
 And forgive all the faults that seem to be.

For they, too, are striving, like you and me,
 For each thing of good and beauty we see.

Helps ransom the soul and at last sets it free.

THE HIGH SCHOOL ROWDY

Letter from a high school boy:

"I am in my third year at high school, and some of the boys often make fun of me because I won't smoke cigarettes. They grab me and light a cigarette and force it into my mouth. I promised my mother and father that I'd never smoke before I am twenty-one. I want to keep my promise, but sometimes a fellow does feel like a sissy when all the others in the bunch smoke right along. Is there really any harm in it?"

That is one thing all wrong in our high schools today. They admit and harbor Smart Aleck, the Moron Young Man, and his mental defective, dressed like a near-collar advertise and pampered and humored and coddled by misguided, over-indulgent parents, contaminates the moral atmosphere of the school, often indeed, brings utter ruin to children who are forced to associate with him.

The school principal can easily find out which of the boys are the dangerous ones and take measures to safeguard the rest.

If mothers and fathers were really loyal to their great responsibility they would exact from every boy a promise or pledge such as this boy's mother wisely asked. Of course, the really vicious young man, the mental defective, will smoke and do everything else that a morally straight lad shouldn't do, pledge or no pledge. But a pledge to the parents is a powerful restraint and may be the saving of many a lad at a critical time when his character is still to be formed.

A law in this boy's state (New York) makes it a misdemeanor to sell or give cigarettes to boys under sixteen. The law, however, is something of a joke, like the headlight law for automobile drivers, and the spitting ordinances in cities. Yet if the law is on the statute books it may be invoked and should be invoked by parents if necessary to punish the hounds who put cigarettes in the hands of children.

Let no one accuse me of being biased against smoking. I do not know that smoking is invariably harmful to grown men, though, of course, every doctor knows tobacco often causes serious disease in habitual smokers and indeed fatal diseases. But I do most positively declare that tobacco cannot fail to injure the health of any minor who uses it; that it weakens him physically every physical director knows; that it impairs his mental capacity every teacher knows; that it renders him morally untrustworthy I think is a conclusion from which we cannot escape if we know boys very well.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Emphasizing the Operation

I would like to reduce my weight by means of your Karell regimen and exercises, but as I have undergone an abdominal operation I can't take much exercise and must depend on diet alone, I suppose.

ANSWER—I resumed daily exercises, including abdominal exercises, four weeks after my abdominal operation. I would not have done so if there were any good reason why I shouldn't. You may have such a reason, but a mere operation is not one.

What Kind of Doctor
 What kind of doctor would you consult for a case of steady falling off in weight? (J. R. R.)

ANSWER—A good doctor. Preferably a young one, with no whiskers to hide behind and not cluttering up his mind with obsolete theories such as "uric acid," "nervous breakdown," "catarrh," "the humors here in the valley," "run down condition" and "weak lungs." The younger the doctor, provided he has been properly educated, the better his treatment, provided he is not a specialist or a surgeon sprung full-fledged from his college and hospital career. Old doctors ought to be put out at pasture, on a reasonable pension, after twenty years of service, or required to submit each ten years to a rigid examination for a license to remain in practice. (Editor, in our political system, but wouldn't it be a fine thing if all the healers, of every brand of "school," were required to show their fitness for their work at reasonable intervals?)

FUTURE OF RAILROAD STRIKE IS HANGING IN THE BALANCE TODAY

The eleven big railroad unions meeting at Kansas City today. These unions are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and their demands for wage increases are included with those presented by the four big brotherhoods. A vote by these unions to strike would probably mean a paralysis of the entire railroad system. They have a combined membership of more than a million workers.

Huge masses of data arranged by statistic experts were prepared by brotherhoods and railroads yesterday for presentation at the senate investigation committee probe of the strike which begins here tomorrow.

U. S. Ready To Act
United States District Attorney Clyde continued preparation to act in the strike case further.

Clyde was in conference repeatedly with labor leaders and railroad managers yesterday.

Clyde is believed, now has definite instructions to take action if he finds there has been conspiracy to cause a nation wide strike and imperil the nation's food and fuel supply.

Figures on the national situation today placed the total number of railroad employees on strike at 36,000.

With the exception of the east, no change was reported in the situation. There are 2,500 out in Indianapolis, 4,000 are idle at Detroit; 500 at Peoria, Ill., and 700 at Milwaukee, Wis.

Good weather this far has marked the strike in this section and enabled roads to move much freight despite a shortage of help. With forecasts predicting rain, snow and winds, the movement of freight will be handicapped and may mean the reinstating of freight embargoes lifted by some roads Sunday when the situation eased.

Strikers Name Terms

Terms for a settlement of the strike were to be laid before railroad officials here today by the local strikers, it was said.

According to John Grunau, president of the Yardmen's Association, these "peace" terms would provide:

Recognition of the strikers union, the "Chicago Yardmen's association"; Wage increases as follows: Conductor or foreman $1 an hour; switchmen and helpers operating more than 3 switches a day, 95 cents an hour; switch tenders operating not more than three switches, 85 a day; time and one half for overtime, Sundays and holidays; double time for overtime on Sundays and legal holidays; eight hour basic day; increases to date from end of strike.

Eastern Line Crippled
New York—Passenger and freight service on railroads operating out of New York was seriously crippled today by the "rump" strike of firemen, yardmen, switchmen and marine workers.

The New York Central was the only road reporting all passenger trains running. Some perishable freight was moving. A few train loads of meat and vegetables arrived during the 24 hours ending at six a. m. today. Milk trains were also being operated.

"White collar" employees were handling many of the trains.

Practically all roads reported incoming trains arriving as usual. This was due to the fact that firemen were striking only in the New York district, they said.

One Train Going West
The Chicago express, crack train on the Erie, arrived at 5:47 a. m. today after having been abandoned by part of its crew at Port Jervis, N. Y., late yesterday. It was laid up twelve hours until trainmen could be sent out to replace the strikers.

The Erie planned to start only one train toward Chicago today. It will run a local. This was the only passenger train scheduled to leave the Erie terminal.

Officials differed as to the seriousness of the food situation in New York city. Dr. Royal S. Copeland, city health commissioner, declared the food supply was sufficient to last only ten days. He called a meeting of merchants for today to discuss the situation.

Commissioner of Markets Charles O'Malley declared there was no danger of a food shortage.

"The warehouses hold enough staple food to last six months," he said.

Suburban Lines Crippled
Suburban traffic on some lines was seriously crippled. Other lines, such as the New Haven and the Long Island railroad whose systems are electrically run were running trains as usual.

"The tube, connecting New Jersey with Manhattan Island was still tied up with ferries crossing the river were crowded. A strike of trolley men in Hoboken, Jersey City and Bayonne reported called for today failed to materialize.

All railroads were making every effort to operate through trains. Pennsylvania officials reported the "Broad" was plying and the "Pennsylvania" was running. Nearly thirty other passenger trains were cancelled by the Pennsylvania, however, in the 24 hours ending at six a. m.

Sees Freak in Strike
Cleveland, O.—A break in the ranks of the yardmen's strike here was reported today by Baltimore and Ohio and Erie railroad officials. They could not estimate the number who returned, but said the resumption of freight traffic to a considerable extent would be possible. Strikers were also reported dribbling back at other yards.

W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said reports from all parts of the country received by him indicated that the tide had turned against the insurgents. He said he would not be surprised to find the backbone of the strike broken by tomorrow.

Samuel Copers, president of the American Federation of Labor, here told the national convention of cigar makers the walkout of yardmen was a mistake and pledged the support of the A. F. of L. to the brotherhoods. Copers and Lee were to address from the same platform a mass meeting of switchmen this afternoon. It was predicted this meeting would result in the return of all of the 2,600 strikers in Cleveland.

MILWAUKEE YARDS IDLE
Milwaukee, Wis.—Milwaukee's freight traffic was effectively paralyzed this morning with all railroad yards idle on account of the strike of some 800 switchmen and yardmen. The strike will soon put 125,000 men out of work and cause a loss of $500,000 daily in industries here, experts estimated. The Ford motor plant was the first to close.

Gov. E. L. Philipp promised to take action today to prevent a blockade of the freight situation. He said he believed 500 motor trucks, obtained from the government, might be put into service.

The Milwaukee local, Chicago Yardmen's association, will hold three meetings daily for the next four days.

Opening of Panama Canal.
In 1914, on August 15, the Panama canal was formally opened to the world. The canal had been nine years in building. The total cost of construction, exclusive of fortifications, civil government and payments to the republic of Panama, was approximately $337,000,000. The first passage after the formal opening of the canal was made by the steamship Ancon. Colonel Goethals, governor of the canal zone, was on board. The passage from Cristobal to Balboa was accomplished in nine hours.

Professional Enemies of Crocodile.
There are, men whose business it is to catch crocodiles and who earn their living by that means. And whenever a human being has fallen a victim to a professional crocodile catcher is asked to help to destroy the murderer, and a large reward offered him. The majority of natives will not interfere with the reptiles, or take any part in their capture, probably fearing if they do anything of the kind they themselves may some time or other suffer for it by being attacked by a crocodile.

To Clean Diamonds.
Diamond dust is a fine dust produced from cutting diamonds. It is extensively used by jewelers, chiefly for cleaning diamonds. It may be procured in any jewelry store, together with instructions for its use. Another quite satisfactory way to clean diamonds is to make a lather of soap, add a little ammonia and apply this cleansing preparation to the stones with a tooth brush.

First Overhead Trolley.
The first practical overhead trolley line was built in Kansas City in 1884, in which double overhead conductors were used with a trolley wheel riding on top of the wire. In 1885 a third-rail line was constructed in Baltimore and the Van de Poel system was installed in Toronto, Canada, and the next year in Scranton, Pa. Prior to this time experimental systems had been in use in Chicago, New York and Boston.

The Constitution Adopted.
The Constitution was adopted by the states at different dates. Delaware adopted it on December 7, 1787; Pennsylvania, December 12, 1787; New Jersey, December 18, 1787; Georgia, January 2, 1788; Connecticut, January 9, 1788; Massachusetts, February 6, 1788; Maryland, April 28, 1788; South Carolina, May 23, 1788; New Hampshire, June 1, 1788; Virginia, June 25, 1788; New York, June 30, 1788; North Carolina, November 21, 1789; Rhode Island, May 29, 1790.

Ups and Downs.
Tourist—"Anything remarkable about this hill, driver?" Driver—"There's nothing peculiar about the hill itself, but there's a queer story connected with it. A young lady and gentleman went for a walk up here; they ascended higher and higher and never came back." Tourist—"Dear me! What, then, became of the unhappy pair?" Driver—"It is supposed that they went down on the other side, sir!"

Was Bound to Go Along.
Harry's father and a friend were going for a walk one Sunday afternoon, and Harry insisted on going long. His father said he would give him a nickel if he stayed home. Harry refused. The father then promised to ring him back a bicycle if he stayed at home and was a good boy. Harry ordered this for a moment and replied: "No, I'll go along and ride it, tek."

Of French Origin.
The prefix Fitz (the son of), so common in England, is supposed to have originated in Flanders. It is remarkable that it is now unknown in France, yet it occurs in the ancient documents and chronicles of that country. It was brought to England by the Normans under William the Conqueror.

Emeralds of the Aztecs.
Among the Aztec treasures of Mexico, besides other precious stones, many exquisitely cut emeralds were found, and it is from this source that the magnificent emeralds now forming part of the royal collection of Spain were supposed to have come.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP VICTORY IN DETROIT BLAZES WAY FOR AMERICAN POLICY OF FUTURE

(By James Couzens)
(Special to Post-Crescent)
Detroit—As soon as Detroit mobilizes her forces to begin the building of her own street car lines, as authorized by the voters at the election held this month, it is probable a conference of American mayors will be called to show them how Detroit's system may be extended to their cities.

Detroit has taken a step of national importance. The fact that 63 per cent of her citizens, after 25 years of bitter fighting with a street railway corporation, decided upon municipal lines demonstrates the feasibility of compromise, here or elsewhere.

Students have long recognized the hopelessness of trying to harmonize the divergent ideas of service and profit. The city granted a monopoly of streets for service and the company took the profit. It was inevitable there would be a clash.

Detroit finally learned public transportation must be founded on service alone.

The sooner American cities take over transportation the sooner their transportation and housing problems will be solved.

The public will no longer grant franchises to private monopolies and without them companies cannot finance themselves.

Taylor grant plans, and service-at-cost agreements, are only temporary compromises, postponing the day of judgment. Every compromise leaves the city in greater distress.

Detroit was unwilling to buy the company lines at inflated prices. Now she will have her own lines and soon the company will be glad to reduce its price and sell out.

Why should a small group of bondholders, most of them living out of the city and with no local interest, say how we shall ride to and from our homes and where we shall build them?

Detroit voted to own its lines in the face of the old wolf-cry—"city lines will be a political machine."

Detroit saw that as long as her city administration had to stand between the people and company lobbyists the railway system would be a political issue. It saw it couldn't hold a railway board of directors responsible for service and that it could hold elected officers responsible. It can fire a mayor; not a railway company president.

Detroit is leading the way for the next big step in American municipal development—municipal ownership of street railways.

Unworthy American Soldier.
In 1812, on the sixth of August, Detroit was surrendered by Gen. William Hull to the British, under General Brock. After Hull was released by the British he was court-martialed by the Americans, found guilty of cowardice and condemned to be shot. President Madison modified the sentence to dishonorable discharge from the army and allowed Hull to go free.

Old Bridge Stood for Centuries.
The New London bridge was opened on August 1, 1831. This replaced the celebrated old bridge, built more than eight centuries before. It had 18 solid stone piers, with bulky stone arches and was covered from end to end with buildings. On the "Tailor's gate," at one end, the heads of traitors were shown. It was removed on account of its obstruction to navigation.

WAUSAU MAN TO SPEAK TO MOOSE

Between 200 and 300 members of the Appleton lodge of Loyal Order of Moose are expected to attend the dinner and program tomorrow evening. This program is the first big rally in the Moose membership campaign which has been in progress for several days.

The principal speaker will be D. V. Hart, prelate of the Wausau lodge of Moose. Mr. Hart is an eloquent talker and much is expected of his address.

All members of the lodge are expected to meet at Moose hall at eight o'clock tomorrow evening prepared to march at 8:30 o'clock to the Y. M. C. A., where the dinner and program is to be held. Several interesting features, in addition to the address, will follow the dinner.

Bought Trees for Protection.
Tree-dwellers are found among savages in various parts of the world. According to the scientists the first habitations of mankind were in the trees as the most adequate protection against the many enemies of the early type of man. It was only in the later period of man's evolution that he was strong enough to hold his own on the ground.

Ring Up the Gods.
In China many temples are provided with a bell at the entrance, and when a worshiper enters he gives the rope a pull to ring the bell in order that the gods may be notified of his coming and be at hand to attend to his prayers.

Contentious Never Popular.
The wise man in Israel has truly said: "A fool's lips enter into contention," and the contentious fool is as common a nuisance today as he was in the olden ones. Usually in proportion to their lack of actual knowledge do such persons presume to set themselves up as dictators to others.—Exchange.

Turtle Unstops Sewer.
To open a stopped up sewer pipe, Frank Ward of Richmond, Mo., caught a small turtle and cut a small hole in its shell. Then he tied a string in the hole and started the turtle through the sewer pipe. Whenever the turtle stopped a pull on the string started it crawling its way forward again until the pipe was clear.

The Cautious Elephant.
Ancient chronicles tell us that the Romans sometimes tested their military bridges by sending an elephant out on them and then watching to see whether the cautious beast would cross. Even to this day the natives in India set great store by the elephant's caution.

Values.
Mrs. Peavish says that, although she would be the last to knock Mr. Peavish, sometimes she feels as if she would give twenty years of married life for ten years in widow's weeds.—Dallas News.

CULT FOLLOWERS FIGHT OVER WILL AND PRIEST'S JOB

DEATH OF AGED LEADER OF MYSTIC ORDER DISRUPTS MEMBERSHIP AND CAUSES MERRY SQUABBLES

By Edward M. Thierly
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Chicago—"Doctor" Olney Hoffman, Grand Master of the Order of the Magi, knew all the mysteries of the world 12,000 years ago and had peered a million or so years into the future.

But his all-seeing eye didn't see what was going to happen a week after his death. It didn't see that he would be killed by a woman.

TWO WOMEN, a man and a board of trustees fighting for the priestly robes and royal estate of Grand Master.

AN INSURGENT chapter of the Order of the Magi, running in competition in a former pupil's basement.

A WIDOW and an adopted daughter struggling for possession of an estate estimated at $250,000.

Richmond died last week. That started the row. His elderly wife, Mrs. Verona Richmond, insisted on a post-mortem examination, declaring he might have been murdered.

Murder suspicions were quickly dissipated, Richmond, who was 76, died of a heart attack.

Then the widow said that while the Grand Master's "divine power" and knowledge of the occult saved him from cannon balls in the Civil War, a hot-tempered ice-box lid carelessly fell on his head a few years ago and unbalanced him mentally.

Now she is fighting for a black box that the foster-daughter, Miss Arline Richmond, refuses to give up. Miss Richmond, one-time Miss Pauline Goethe, is young and pretty.

The Secret Box

The black box is supposed to contain papers proving a fortune. Also the original charter of the Order of Magi and mystic sodae charts.

The Order of the Magi has several thousand members in the United States. Richmond claimed its ritual originated on the fabled island of Atlantis, which Socrates called "the land beyond the pillars" 12,000 years ago.

Among his writings were forecasts: THAT Chicago would grow to 6,000,000 inhabitants and then sink into pickles.

THAT New York and Boston would be engulfed by the sea.

THAT Millions of years hence America would cease to exist and new worlds would people new islands suddenly sprung up in the Pacific Ocean.

Seek Mystic Leadership

But these Magi secrets mean nothing to Mrs. Richmond and Miss Arline, both of whom claim to be the rightful heir to the Grand Master's throne. Each wants to be High Priestess.

Ernest A. Johnson, Grand Warden of the Order, says a board of trustees ought to run the cult. And the present E. C. Peterson, who used to sit drinking in knowledge at the great Richmond's knee, has already set up a mystic shrine of his own in his basement and claims to be the real Grand Master.

Court injunctions and a will suit are now imminent.

SECTIONAL PROGRAMS AT SUNDAY SCHOOL MEET

Four sectional programs have been arranged for the district convention of the Wisconsin Sunday School Association at Neenah April 22, 23, and 24, as follows: Workers with children; workers with boys and girls; adults; general officers. Conferences will be held at the close of each.

Copies for the program for the convention have been received at the Y. M. C. A. About twenty-five Appleton delegates will attend the conference.

Among the subjects to be discussed at the convention are: "Building Up a Sunday School," "The Master Teacher," "Evangelism in the Sunday School," and "The Home Department a Community Factor."

Speakers include Dr. A. H. Gage, educational director for the Baptists of Chicago; Walter Hutton, state secretary, Iowa Sunday school Association; and Ray Fletcher, director of religious education, House of Hope Presbyterian church, St. Paul.

STRIKE EMBARGOES STOP SHIPMENTS

NO FREIGHT WILL BE ACCEPTED FOR TRANSPORTATION TO MILWAUKEE OR CHICAGO

All Appleton railway agents received embargo notices this morning which virtually suspend shipping until the Chicago strike is settled.

No shipments are accepted on the Chicago and Northwestern for Milwaukee or points south, and nothing west of Winona, Minn. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul is tied up in the same manner, but it is possible to route shipments to St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn., over the Soo line.

About all the freight that can be dispatched from Appleton now is for southeastern Wisconsin, providing it does not pass through Milwaukee, and to points in the northwest. The main terminal points are cut off because of the congestion and if the situation remains unchanged for very long, local industries will suffer severely.

GLEE CLUBS RETURN AFTER SPLENDID TOURS

The Girls' Glee club and the Men's Glee club of Lawrence college completed their spring tours Saturday night and returned here yesterday. They were both gone for three weeks and scored successes wherever they appeared. They are now getting ready for the home concerts. The Girls' club is to give its home concert April 15; the Men's club April 20.

The last concert of the Girls' club was at Stevens Point Saturday night. It was given under the auspices of the high school in the Normal auditorium.

The Men's club gave its last concert at Wausau in the Methodist church.

The clubs are arranging special features for their home concerts. Several numbers of local significance will be added into the regular program.

LAWRENCE STUDENTS ON BIG ROTARY PROGRAM

Lawrence students who presented the comedy, "Food," as an April stunt several months ago have been secured by the Rotary club to repeat their performance Tuesday night at the convention at Wausau. The play is a short, clever take-off on the food shortage, anticipated for the days of 1950, and won the enthusiastic praise of the audience. The students taking part are Miss Beth Stanley, Clintonville; Kevin Larsen, Neenah; Pen Pugh, Racine.

TWO CARS DAMAGED IN TRAFFIC MIX-UP TODAY

A traffic mixup at the Oneida and College avenue corner this morning resulted in slight damage to two cars. The Wadham Oil company truck driven by Carl Kranszuch was obliged to make a sudden turn east while proceeding north on Oneida, in order to prevent striking the parked post truck driven by Richard Peerenboom. Kranszuch started his truck backward without noticing the approach of J. F. Strauss of Green Lake in a roadster. The result was that the front of the Strauss car was jammed, injuring the radiator, lights and fender. Minor damage was also inflicted on the fenders of the oil truck.

DISCUSS ORGANIZATION AT BUTCHERS' MEETING

J. P. Zarecky, Oshkosh, addressed the members of the Fox River Valley District Council of Meat Cutters Sunday afternoon at Trades and Labor Council hall. The speaker discussed labor organization.

Rules and by-laws for the organization, recently formed, were adopted at the business session. Fond du Lac was represented by five members, Oshkosh 5, Appleton 5, and Neenah 2 members. Green Bay was not represented.

The next conference will be held at Oshkosh May 2.

POSTAL WORKERS HEAR DISCUSSION OF "LIFE"

An interesting meeting of Appleton Postoffice association was held Saturday evening in the swing room of the federal building. Albert A. Martin, of the custodian force of the postoffice, gave an inspiring address on "Life," touching upon the elements that make for unhappiness and failure and those that make for joy of living and success. Matters pertaining to the postal service were also taken up.

MONTICORE CHURCH HOLDS ANNUAL MEET

A business meeting of the congregation Monticore was held at the Synagogue Sunday evening, at which the following officers were elected: President, A. Golden, Kaukauna; vice-president, A. Kron; secretary, I. Bahenlt; treasurer, Harry Resman. The congregation voted to raise the salary of the Rev. A. Zussman, and transacted other routine business matters.

APPLETON BOYS TO PLAY IN COLLEGE MINSTREL

Two Appleton boys, Norbert Butler and Harold Fountain, are members of the cast composed of St. Norbert college students, which is to present a minstrel entertainment at the college auditorium at De Pere next Friday evening.

The program is divided into two parts, the first consisting of the minstrel show proper, and the second a musical comedy in three acts entitled "Always in Trouble."

Butler will play "Rastus Jelly-brake," end man, in the minstrel show, and Fountain is a member of the chorus.

"Hiram Tutt," an awful nut, is played by Harold Fountain in the musical comedy. Butler takes the part of Samatha Sale, an old maid, in the second part of the program.

SHARP DECLINE IN PRICES OF FUTURES

COIN AND OATS OPEN HIGH BUT CLOSING PRICES ARE THREE CENTS A BUSHEL OFF FROM START

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Ill.—Grain futures suffered a sharp decline after today's opening on the Chicago board of trade. Both corn and oats were off about 3 cents a bushel from the opening high figures in the later trading.

Absence of buying and shipping in cash grain coupled with heavy realizing by persons who have held corn for some time and who are selling out at a good profit, were responsible.

May corn which opened up 1 1/4 at $1.68 1/2 lost 2 1/2 in the later trading; July corn up 1/2 on opening at $1.61 1/2 fell off 2 1/2 later; Sept. corn up 1/2 on opening at $1.56 1/2 lost 1 1/2 in the later market.

May oats up 1/2 at opening quotation of 96 1/2, lost 1 1/2; July oats up 1 1/2 on opening at 87 1/2, fell off 2 in later trading.

Provisions were generally lower.

He was given a fine of ten dollars, which, with the costs, made a total of $20.20.

BIG DEAL—The largest real estate transfer recorded at the register of deeds office for some time was that of John Stevens to the Kresge Realty company which included the stores occupied by P. M. Conkey & Co., and William C. Kerman's grocery. The consideration was $68,000 and the instrument accordingly was decorated with $68 worth of revenue stamps.

Explaining Geysers.
In a word, the whole secret of the intermittent geysers lies in a subterranean reservoir, the contents of which are forced out by steam expansion every time it gets filled up. The Yellowstone park is a region which not so very long ago was fiercely volcanic. In that role it has ceased to play an alarming part, but locally the earth's crust is extremely thin. A very literal bell ringer not far beneath the places frequented by tourists, and thence is derived the heat that causes the outbursts of the geysers.

Natural Barometer.
One of the simplest of nature's barometers is a spider's web. When there is a prospect of wind or rain the spider shortens the filaments by which its web is sustained and leaves it in this state as long as the weather is variable. If it elongates its threads, it is a sign of fine, calm weather.

Bonaparte's Short Career.
In 1802, on August 2, Napoleon Bonaparte was declared consul of France for life. Thirteen years to the day, the convention between the representatives of Great Britain, Prussia, Austria and Russia declared Bonaparte, then emperor of the French, to be a prisoner of the allies and entrusted Great Britain with his custody.

STANDARD OF LIFE SHOULD CONFORM TO THE LIFE OF CHRIST

THE REV. F. L. SCHRECKENBERG DELIVERS ADDRESS AT MEMORIAL MEETING
FOR MOOSE

The Rev. F. L. Schreckenber, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, yesterday called upon mankind to conform to the standard of living set by Christ in his address at memorial services for deceased members of the Local Order of Moose at Moose hall.

The Rev. Mr. Schreckenber was asked to deliver the address only a few hours before the meeting when it was found that Attorney Theodore Berg, who was scheduled to make the talk, was unable to be present.

The program was of exceptional interest, including musical and vocal numbers. The eulogy was delivered by the dictator.

All lives are influenced by the Holy Spirit or by individuals, the speaker said. He denied there is a creature commonly known as the "self-made man."

There are 3 standards of living, Mr. Schreckenber said. Those who live the "one standard" live in their right living on their intellect, but attainment or upon what they believe they will receive for their mode of living. The double standard is that employed by those who parade one mode of life and live another.

The only true standard is that established by Christ, the speaker said. Mankind must conform to that standard if he wishes to make real progress. "When Christ is enshrined in the heart of men, then will the world know what is right and what is wrong," Mr. Schreckenber said.

TYPOGRAPHERS TO HAVE A NEW WAGE SCHEDULE

A new wage scale will be presented to employers in about two months by workers of the Typographical Union 612, comprising about 50 members from Appleton, Neenah, Menasha and Kaukauna. A straw vote was taken on the proposition at the monthly meeting at the Northwestern House Saturday night and favorable action resulted. Just how large an increase will be demanded, members refused to state.

The meeting was preceded by a supper. Nine candidates were initiated into the organization. Charles A. Raught, Kaukauna mayor, addressed the meeting on labor organization.

Forty-five members attended the conference, including 30 from Neenah and Menasha, and six from Kaukauna.

NEWS OF OUTAGAMIE COUNTY AND WISCONSIN

BELOIT HOUSING PLAN KNIFED BY SELFISH BANKERS

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PLAN WORKED NICELY UNTIL THE BANKS BELITTLED STOCK PLAN EXPLAINED

By Edward M. Thierry
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Beloit, Wis.—Any American city can solve its housing problem with the Beloit plan if its citizens will forget their private interests long enough to give the plan a fair start.

M. T. Jacobs, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, devised the plan. It was idealistic. Jacobs admitted it. Supporters and opponents agree now that that is why it wouldn't work in this city where business men can't mix sentiment and business.

Scheme Is Knifed

The Chamber of Commerce approved Jacobs' plan and part of the money was subscribed. Suddenly the scheme was knifed by the banks.

The commercial interests of the town quickly raised their share of the capital—$50,000. They loaned it for 10 years without interest. Then the banks announced that stock in the proposed building company would not be accepted as loan security.

That was a blow to little business men who couldn't loan money for nothing for a long period of time. The banks took the action because they saw their mortgage business "shot to pieces."

Cut Down Cost

Everybody here admits the plan would work if Beloit folks would let it work. Jacobs found that houses which cost $1900 to build in 1916 now cost $5100, but he made arrangements to build them for $3500.

Here's the plan that will work anywhere folks will forget selfish interests to provide houses in their cities:

Organize a building company, run by Chamber of Commerce, to build at least 100 homes.

Capital stock of $400,000, industries to subscribe $350,000 in proportion to employees, $50 per employee; merchants and professional men to subscribe $50,000.

Subscriptions loaned to building company WITHOUT INTEREST for 10 years, building company to operate WITHOUT PROFIT.

Build 100 homes costing from $2800 up, including lots, on 1100 vacant lots in city; no subdivision to be attempted.

Prevents Speculation

Sell houses at cost to any employee of any company OK'd by Chamber of Commerce on condition it is not sublet or sold, building company to have option of buying back at original cost; thus preventing speculation.

Terms: $300 down and 1-120th of principal per month for 10 years; plus 6 per cent interest to cover operating charges, including fire insurance and taxes. Cash sale terms: Total cost plus 1/4 of 1 per cent interest within 30 days; total cost plus 2 1/2 per cent interest within six months.

Example of long-term contract: On house and lot costing $3000, down payment of $100; monthly payment of $25 on principal plus $14.50 interest each month for first six months, or total monthly payment first six months, $39.50, gradually decreasing as interest decreases.

Building company to turn over capital as rapidly as payments are made, using it to build additional houses on same plan.

FARMER-CHEESE MEN MERGER IS DROPPED

Plymouth—The appearance in Plymouth of parties representing interests identified with the American Society of Equity, and rumors of a possible consolidation of the Farmers' organization with the Wisconsin Cheese Producers' Federation, led Henry Krumrey, Plymouth, president and general manager of the federation, to make the statement that there is "absolutely no truth in the report that such a union was made."

He added, however, that a plan had been submitted to the federation by parties representing the Equity, which, after being discussed, was mutually considered to be impracticable and not at all feasible and discarded. Before a deal of such magnitude could be made, it would be necessary to submit the question to the stockholders at their annual meeting, according to Mr. Krumrey.

MADISON CO-EDS TAKE KINDLY TO CIGARET SMOKING

NUMBER OF WOMEN SMOKERS AT UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN IS RAPIDLY INCREASING

Madison.—Can you picture the co-ed of the future strolling homeward from class or lecture with a dainty, gold-tipped cigarette held gracefully between her fingers or tilting from the corner of her pretty little mouth?

Can you imagine her in the dining room, chair tipped to the proper after-dinner angle, with the smoke rings rising in fragrant clouds, or studiously working into the day's problems with a book before her and a cigarette clenched between her strong young teeth?

Be that as it may, it is certain that smoking by women of the University of Wisconsin is on the increase, and despite the fact that the Self-Government association of the institution is trying to discourage the habit and despite the fact that the majority of both men and women leaders are opposed to the habit.

Women Buy Cigarets

Proprietors of drug stores, restaurants and cigar stands where cigarets are handled, when interviewed, stated that many women and girls are regular purchasers and all agreed that the number is increasing especially among the students.

At many apartments and lodging houses where the tenants are women students, it causes no comment when cigarette stubs are found. And they are of the brand usually smoked by women.

The big majority of men claim that women smokers are increasing at the varsity and some of the women admit it.

"I believe that 50 per cent of the women have smoked at some time or other," one student leader said.

"Personally I do not think that the majority of thinking women at the university approve of smoking," said Dorothy Bell Wood, prominent senior, "but it is for the student body to decide by the force of public opinion, whether or not smoking is compatible with Wisconsin's ideal of womanhood."

"I do not think it is wrong, considered from a moral standpoint, for women to smoke," said Bertam Zimmerman, editor of the Daily Cardinal and popular fraternity man.

Miss Amy Jobse, president of S. G. A., and Margaret R. Brown, assistant business manager of the 1920 Badger, both are opposed to smoking by women and would stamp out the habit.

Henry C. Dennis, prominent track man, says: "If girls wish to smoke a cigarette now and then I do not see why men should criticize."

More than seven million barrels of oil are being shipped out of Mexico each month.

Good Old Fashioned Faith
—That's What The World Needs Most

WHAT is the cure for the world's present troubles—for unrest and envy and covetousness and fear?

Legislation? Industrial compromises? Political readjustments? We've tried them all, and they do not satisfy.

We're hungry and thirsty for Faith.

"The world needs a genuine religious revival," cabled the London financial editor of the New York Evening Post recently. And he added: "This is the view of hard-headed business men."

What business men are now proclaiming the churches have always proclaimed. You must touch the spirits of men if you are to change their lives: only to the extent of their faith in each other can they work together. All remedies are makeshifts except the Golden Rule.

Thirty denominations, knowing the need to be too great for any one denomination to meet alone, are cooperating in a nationwide campaign.

It is a campaign for deepening the spiritual forces of men; for enlisting their hearts, and their pocket-books too. And every man and woman who loves America will be glad of a chance to help.

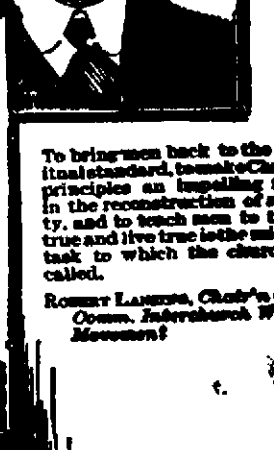

For the hope of America is Democracy and the Founder of Democracy was the Founder of the Church. It was He who first called men sons of God, and so made all men brothers.

Not as employers and employees, not as members of parties or sects, but as sons of God and brothers all let us work out our problems together.

To strengthen the Church is our first great task; out of the Church flows Faith.

The only real and permanent solution of the vexing problems which seem more acute than ever since the end of the World War is the application of the Golden Rule.

To bring men back to the spiritual standard, Jesus Christ's principles are an inspiring force in the reconstruction of society, and to teach men to think true and live true is the mighty task to which the church is called.

Justice Davis, Secretary of the Navy

The spiritual side of man's nature has been too much neglected, and we need a new birth of religiousness that will restore the true relation between spiritual and material things.

For every one called, the spiritual side of his nature must be developed. Let us build our lives on the spiritual foundation of the church and the world will be a better place. Let us build our lives on the spiritual foundation of the church and the world will be a better place.

The Stage

Arthur Middleton

The next number of the Appleton Community Lecture and Artists Series will be a concert by Arthur Middleton, America's greatest baritone. The concert will be held in Lawrence Memorial Chapel next Friday evening April 16th at 8:20 o'clock. Ticket sale will open at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday and Friday at nine A. M.

Arthur Middleton, the "Made in America" baritone, so-called because he has received all his musical training and done all of his singing in the U. S. A. is one of the most distinguished concert and oratorio singers that this country has produced. His repertoire is extensive, embracing practically all of the standard and modern works and in many of these he sings without notes.

When "Tea for Three" the brilliant comedy which played one entire year at Maxine Elliott's Theatre, New York, and which is to be seen at the Appleton Theatre on Thursday, April 15, opened to instantaneous success, theatregoers, after the first flush of the opening, remembered that Roi Cooper Megrue, the author, was also the author of "Where Poppies Bloom," another of last season's popular successes. And comment was general.

Shortly after it was made public that Mr. Megrue was also credited with a third play being shown with great successes in New York, at the same time. That was "Under Orders," the two-person play at the Eltinge Theatre. True, it is only an adaptation by Mr. Megrue, but his work and the credit were there for all that.

Off hand, it is hard to recall another instance where one playwright has had three of his plays in New York Theatres the same time. Incidentally, it may be announced now that Mr. Megrue not only has another of his own inimitable comedies ready for production but that, in addition, he is fast completing the book for a musical play—his first attempt, by the way at this style of work.

Stock Market Pointers
(By John M. Oskison.)
Sophisticated is a useful word. It isn't used enough. It means "in the know." It implies experience—the sort of experience that teaches. It is properly used to describe a man who writes for the residue of the estate of said deceased to such person or persons as are by law entitled to the same.

Dated, Appleton, Wis., March 25, 1920.

CENSUS EXPERTS DO SOME GUESSING ON U. S. POPULATION

THINK TOTAL FIGURE TO REACH 108,500,000 AND THAT NEARLY 10 PER CENT WILL BE RURAL

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Washington, D. C.—Census experts believe that the 1920 census will show that despite the rush of country residents to the cities, there are still about four million more country people than city dwellers in the United States.

The census will also show, they think, the fallacy of the belief, widely held, that the rural districts of the United States are decreasing in population.

The experts believe the 1920 census will show about 108,500,000 people in the United States.

The average increase in population in the 154 cities, already tabulated, is 21.4 per cent. If the 1910 census figure, of 91,972,266, is increased by 21.4, it shows the population today to be 111,651,330. But the census students point out that the cities have grown more rapidly than country towns and farming counties.

Last Census

The last estimate of population made by the Bureau of Census was in July, 1919, for that year. It gave a population of 106,871,294. This figure was a gain of 1,600,000 a year for nine years. At this rate in 1920 there should be 108,500,000 inhabitants.

To estimate the rate of growth of rural communities, experts have taken this total of 108,500,000 and subtracted from it 51,744,787. This latter figure is the estimated number of city dwellers obtained by multiplying the 1910 census figure for cities by 21.4 per cent, the new rate of growth for cities established by the 1920 census thus far.

This computation gives the number of rural inhabitants at 55,125,507 and shows the rate of gain since 1910 to be 9.7 per cent.

Over Half in Country
Therefore, say the experts, of the probable total of 108,500,000 people in the United States, 51,744,787, or 42.8 per cent of them live in the cities; and 55,125,507, or 51.58 per cent in the country.

It must be remembered, however, that only smaller cities have been tabulated to date and their growth is probably less than the larger cities. Thus it is expected that the final average rate of increase for cities will be over the 21.4 per cent shown to date, and the final country increase under 9.7 per cent.

OSHKOSH GETTING READY FOR VALLEY BALL SEASON

Sawdust City Aggregation Threatens to be One of the Strongest in New Valley Baseball Wheel

Teams in the Fox River valley baseball league will start preparation for the season's opening May 2. Oshkosh, with Steckbauer as manager, claims a pennant winning aggregation. The Sawdust city ball tossers hold their initial practice tomorrow afternoon.

Stevenson, a twirler of W-I league fame, and Kejawa, former Kimberly catcher, will do the battery work for Oshkosh during the season. Bixby and Pfaffenroth of Oshkosh, have infield positions, and Boettke and Metz will operate in the infield.

Oshkosh has a strong aggregation on paper and will give the rest of the league a hard battle. Appleton's worries are only of a financial nature, as Dutch Sylvester, manager, is bringing together a playing aggregation that will be second to none in the league.

The local management is endeavoring to raise $2,000 to put a club in the field.

An Oklahoma man has invented an oil can that does not leak if upset, a rod inside the spout keeping it closed unless the bottom of the can is pressed.

A patent has been granted for a safety pocket for men, to be attached to suspender buttons inside the waist band of trousers and held closed by suspender tips.

Nearly one-fourth of the world's supply of cotton is raised in the British empire, including India, Egypt and the Sudan.

CHILDREN ASK GUARDIAN FOR HIM

Palm Beach—Richard Croker, one-time powerful boss of Tammany, is no longer able to handle his own affairs, according to his children, who have asked the Florida courts to appoint a guardian. It is alleged that Croker's second wife, whom he married six years ago, has great influence with him. His estate is estimated to amount to more than $10,000,000.

ENGLISH PAY HIGH CLOTHING PRICES

GOVERNMENT HAS MADE IMMENSE PROFIT FROM WOOL CONTROL—PARLIAMENT BLAMES PROFITTEERS

(Special to Post-Crescent)
London—Members of the British Parliament charge that the high prices of men's clothing and of women's serge and merino dresses are plain cases of "ramp."

"Ramp" is the British slang for our word profiteering. It is pointed out that the government will have monopolistic control of the world's best wool supply until June 30 next. Also, that it expects to have on hand at the end of this year about 530,000 bales of wool, which is about one-quarter of the world's best annual clip.

Make Large Profit
It has been estimated that owing to its buying wool at controlled prices and selling for civilian purposes at market prices or something near it, the British government has made a profit of $300,000,000.

The next step is in the sale by the middlemen of the merino "tops" or prepared and cleaned wool. The pre-war profit used to be about 1 cent per pound. Now it is claimed it is as much as 50 cents in some cases. The spinner's profit on the worsted yarn jumped from 2 to 6 cents per pound to 26 to 36 cents.

Prices Go Sky High
The cloth manufacturer is charging from 4 to 6 times his pre-war price and his profit is in even greater ratio. Indigo serge weighing 20 ounces to the yard and made of merino wool sold here in 1914 for $1.40 per yard. The manufacturers now get $7.50 to $8.75 per yard for some of it.

It is contended here that government control of wool has not contributed in any measure to the high prices of clothing in America. If all the wool had been free of control and sold in the open auction market, the demand would still have been so keen that American bidders would have been forced to pay very high prices.

Exported woolen cloths have increased fourfold in price compared with 1913. Furthermore, it is suspected that a very great amount of this cloth is going to Germany.

Ill and Nervous.

Nurses dislike the season of thunderstorms. "We are not afraid of lightning ourselves," a nurse in a woman's hospital told me, "but it has a harmful effect on the patients. Most sick people fear lightning. In cases of extreme weakness or nervousness a dozen flashes of blinding lightning reduce the patient to a state of utter prostration."

Sturdy Old Italian Dame.

The women of the lower classes in Italy are indefatigable workers. They have to be, and do all sorts of laborious and unwomanly tasks, according to our American ideas. In fact, the traveler in Italy is almost convinced that the women do all the work, while the men do the talking. Age is no barrier to feminine activity, for one old crone at least eighty, to judge from her wrinkled face and tottering steps, was photographed carrying an immense basket of figs, all alone, across one of the busiest streets in lovely Lugano in Italy.

Birds Foretell Weather Change.

Swallows are unerring in their instinct. If they are flying high, then an umbrella is not an immediate necessity. But if, when they are in search of their food, they skim along at a low altitude, it is safe to predict a downfall at no great period. The long-distance flyers, such as gulls and rooks, are well worth attention. They are not only weather-wise, but wise in common sense. They never venture far from home when bad weather is brewing.

Brass Most Useful Alloy.

Brass is perhaps the best known and most useful alloy. It is formed by fusing together copper and zinc. Different proportions of these metals produce brasses possessing marked distinctive properties. The proportions of the different ingredients are seldom precisely alike; these depend upon the requirements of various uses for which the alloys are intended. Peculiar qualities of the constituent metals also exercise influence on the results.

COUNTY TEACHERS TO MEET IN BLACK CREEK

FIRST MEETING OF THE BLACK CREEK SECTION SCHEDULED FOR APRIL 24—INTERESTING PROGRAM

The first meeting of the Black Creek section of the Outagamie County Teachers' Federation will be held at the school house at Black Creek, Saturday, April 24. Teachers generally are invited.

Among the questions to be discussed are: "Should I be satisfied with the results of past language teaching as evidenced by my pupils?" "What language mistakes are common among children?" "Can letter writing be made a natural exercise? What is the difficulty?"

In his notice of the meeting, A. G. Meising, county superintendent of schools, states he is glad to contribute to the program and guarantees to give teacher in attendance an interesting day. In order to give point to the program each teacher is requested to study the language outline in the manual.

The county commencement will be discussed and teachers will be invited to give their views as to where they prefer to have it, and date and nature of the program.

BROOD SOWS: THEIR CARE AND FEEDING

Young sows intended for breeding purposes should be separated from the other pigs when about five or six months old, and kept in pasture, says a University of California bulletin. They should be fed a growing ration, not a fattening one. Barley will generally constitute the bulk of this ration in California, except in sections where corn does well. If the pasture is alfalfa or clover, only a small amount of some other feed or feeds high in protein will be necessary. If the pasture is other than alfalfa or clover, the high-protein feed should be increased in proportion to the barley or corn. Skim milk, tankage, wheat shorts or middlings, and perhaps soy bean meal and coconut meal will furnish the desired protein. Corn, kafir, milo and barley may be fed dry to hogs of almost any age, but the last three should be ground or rolled. Less barley will be wasted when fed in an open trough if it is soaked. Brood sows and young pigs seem to relish it more in this condition. If the grain is soaked, twelve hours is sufficient. Oats may be used as a part of the ration for brood sows, especially in conjunction with wheat, but both are usually too high in price to be used for hog feed, and oats are rather too bulky to constitute the entire ration. Dried beet pulp, soaked, may replace from one-third to one-half the barley.

The amount of skim milk to be fed will vary with the price of grain, but when barley is not higher than $1 per hundred pounds and skim milk or buttermilk can be secured for 25 cents per hundred pounds or less, it is most economical to feed not more than three and one-half to four pounds of milk for each pound of grain.

Tankage is so high in protein that one pound of it to 10 to 12 pounds of grain is sufficient, depending on the age and condition of the hogs.

Mature sows can make good use of some bulky feeds during the winter months, but they should always be fed a sufficient amount of grain to keep them in vigorous condition, and be supplied with sufficient protein and mineral matter to develop the growing foetus properly. Some alfalfa hay may be fed in racks or in the form of meal. A few cull potatoes, if cooked, may be used, also some pumpkins, sugar beets or mangels. It is poor economy, however, to attempt to use these feeds in such amounts that the sows are thin at farrowing time and the pigs weak because of improper nourishment. An abundance of exercise should be provided for all breeding stock.

Blame Nightmare on Demon

In some portions of the continent of Europe nightmare is believed to be a spectral creature that comes and takes a seat on the breast of the unconscious sleeper, half smothering him and not permitting him to move. As those who have suffered therefrom say they cannot so much as bend the little finger during those moments of anguish, it is not surprising that the superstitious explained the condition as a malicious demon crushing his victim.

State Potato Yield

The yield of Irish potatoes per acre in California shows a falling off of six bushels being 129 bushels as compared with 135 in 1919. The estimate of the State's total production is 11,350,000 bushels. Reports show that 80 per cent of the acreage was grown for the market. Total production in United States is 348,000,000 bushels as compared with 400,000,000 bushels in 1918.

ANSWER UNREST, IS JUDGE LINDSEY'S PLEA TO PARTIES

HE URGES POLITICAL LEADERS TO GET AWAY FROM GLIT-TERING GENERALITIES TO CATCH VOTES

(By Ben B. Lindsey)
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Denver.—The political parties during the coming campaign owe it to the country to provide, if possible, some genuine answer to the cause of dissatisfaction and unrest in this country.

After all of our years of civilization, we are in the most terrible war in history, with its expenditures of billions of money and thousands of men, for our people to find the problems of life more difficult than ever and for the most of them, all costs of living and struggle for existence harder than ever is surely just cause for a vigorous kick.

It seems to me the most important problem to come up for settlement during this campaign is to find real, genuine courage in our political parties to come out flat-footed, square and fair with some concrete proposals that are as deep and real as they are fundamental and true to answer this rising tide of so-called radicalism and unrest.

The programs of all the candidates who have so far spoken are made up of usual glittering generalities that seem to be designed to catch votes rather than to settle problems.

What a refreshing time it will be when candidates and platforms rid themselves of catch phrases and balanced proposals that mean nothing and get nowhere.

I very much fear that we are to be treated to the usual generalities without any real effort to face the truth of things as they are and propose fundamental reforms for a reconstruction of our national life in order to use the great wealth of the nation for the real good of all the people of the nation instead of its use to the greater wealth, honor and glory of the few at the expense of the many, as our system of privilege, maintained and sanctified more or less by both parties, at the behest of their real bosses, has done in the past.

I believe in our institutions, in laws, order and the Constitution. But I believe also that these institutions are capable of such development and use by the people that they will by their functioning and activity for justice so endure themselves to the people that no one but a mad man would want to get rid of them.

RICH INDIAN EXPELLED FROM TRIBE AND DRIVEN FROM TOWN FINDS SOLACE IN THROWING KNIVES

(By Mahel Abbott)
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Pawhuska, Okla.—This is the second chapter of the story of John Stink, Osage Indian.

The first chapter has been told far beyond the borders of the "Osage nation"—how old John many years ago was carried out of his home to die, according to the custom of the Osages when one of their number nears his end and how he was pronounced dead; and how he was buried under a pile of stones; and how he came to go out and was dubbed a ghost by his tribesmen; and how he was thereafter an outcast, an Indian without a tribe, dead to his own superstitious people though still in the flesh.

The second chapter—John Stink was lonely after he had "died." So he spent much of his time in Pawhuska, which, though it is the capital of the Osage nation, is a white man's town.

Adopts 17 Dogs
John made friends with some dogs that were as lonely as he, and these dogs told other dogs, until in a short time John had a tribe of 17 dogs of every possible combination of breeds. They went with him wherever he went; they slept curled up with him in the doorway of stores, they foraged and begged for food, as he did. In short, John and his dogs soon became a public nuisance.

So the town marshal notified him to keep his dogs off the streets. But he made the mistake of telling John in person instead of telling his guardian, who would have interpreted the message to him and made sure he understood its authority.

Marshal Shoots One
John didn't understand the order or didn't want to, and didn't care a whoop what the town marshal thought of his dogs anyway; and he and they went calmly on their accustomed and noisy rounds.

Whereupon the marshal took a shot at the multitude and hit one of the dogs—a little white one.

A girl who knew John well and saw the occurrence tells the story. "John never said a word," she says. "He stooped and picked up the little dog and carried it out of town and about a mile up the creek."

"Then he put it down on a big flat stone and tried to do something for it; but nothing could be done. He sat there watching it until it died."

"Then he got up and said: 'John Stink is through with white men.' And he has never come to town since."

Throws Knives All Day
John lives under two blankets stretched between trees beside the flat stone where he watched one of his last 17 friends die. He is through with the white man, his own people long ago were through with him, and most of his dogs are dead now.

His guardian sends him a basket of food two or three times a week. The government agency sends him his share of the Osage oil money, and he is a rich man.

But he stands all day on the flat stone and practices throwing knives. He can kill a bird on the wing with a knife.

Louisiana is planning a large extension to the agriculture department of her state university and much time will be spent by the committee in inspecting the college of agriculture at the state university.

FINISH OF EXPRESS COMPANIES SEEN IN NEW RATE PLEA

PARCEL POST IS SAID TO BE CAUSE OF THREE-YEAR
DEFICIT OF MILLIONS—END INEVITABLE

(By George H. Waters)
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Washington.—The end of the express companies seems to be in sight. The American Railway Express Co., which is a joint organization of the Adams, Wells-Fargo, American and Southern companies, has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for an enormous increase in rates. The increase sought is from 25 to 50 per cent.

That this effort at a rate increase is a dying gasp for breath, is freely predicted, both at the Postoffice Department and the I. C. C. Even the express companies intimate they will quit, and in fact the Adams, Wells-Fargo and Southern have told the I. C. C. they didn't care to have their companies back as before the government took them over.

One Makes Small Profit
The American company has been making a little profit on its foreign business and it still shows signs of life.

The American Railway Express Co. had an operating deficit of $57,000,000 for 1917, '18 and '19. This is nearly twice as much as the value of the company's property. The company's deficit in 1919 was $20,000,000.

And while the express business "profits" were in the red, the parcel post of the Postoffice Department cleared $10,000,000 in 1919. The operating receipts of the parcel post were $100,000,000, about the amount of the operating revenue of the express company. But expenses of the express company were enormous.

What Increase Would Do
This condition existed when only the short-haul and small-package rates of parcel post were lower than express rates. But the proposed increase in express rates will make all express rates considerably higher than parcel post rates. In the way the express company faces the following condition:

If the company doesn't get an increase, it will go to the wall for want of money; if it does get an increase, its small-package business will go to parcel post and the heavy package to the freight service.

Meanwhile the parcel post may decrease rates again. It has done so three times since it started in 1913, and has never had an increase. The express company has had a 220 per cent increase in rates the last two years.

The parcel post will take packages weighing 70 pounds for distances not to exceed 300 miles and 50 pounds for any distance. The average size parcel post package last year was 3 pounds and 4 ounces and express bundles averaged 30 pounds.

These tables show parcel post and express rates between six points. Top figures in each table are for one pound; second for five pounds; third for 25 pounds, and fourth for 50 pounds:

CELIBACY TAX WOULD SOON

French Actress Vehement Over Proposal to Force Marriage Issue Through Taxation—She Wants Romance in Courtship

(Special to Post-Crescent)

New York.—"If they wish to take the romance out of life, let them try it!" "A tax on celibacy, applied to spinners and bachelors alike, would soon result in women extending the leap-year privilege to every year, and seeking and courting mates. Such a law would give women the right to propose, if for no other reason than to evade the tax! And marriage to evade taxation would certainly be little short of commercialism."

Such is the dictum of Jeanne Eagles, herself of French extraction, now starring in "The Wonderful Thing," on the report from Paris that the French government plans an indiscriminate celibacy tax to encourage marriages and hold up its sagging birthrate.

"No one could say what would be the far-reaching effects of a commercialization of marriage such as this celibacy tax would bring about," continued Miss Eagles. "When I marry, I want romance in my courtship. I do not want to be married in order that somebody shall not have to pay a miserable old tax! Why do legislators and parliamentarians always have so little imagination? The idea of taxing non-

ATTEMPTED MONOPOLY OF SHIPPING NIPPED

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Washington, D. C.—An attempt to create a monopoly of Alaskan shipping for the Alaska Steamship Co., a Guggenheim corporation, has been blocked in the Senate Commerce Committee by James Wickham, former Alaskan delegate to Congress and John E. Ballaine of Seattle.

Present indications are that the attempt may prove a boomerang and cause the establishment of a government-owned boat line between Pacific ports and Alaska.

Wickham and Ballaine charged that M. D. Leechy, attorney for the Alaska Territorial Shipping Board, who drafted the measure submitted to Congress, was working in the interests of the Guggenheims.

Freight rates on the Alaska Steamship Co., from Pacific ports to Seward, Alaska, average about $13 per ton, and on shipments to Bristol Bay, where the big salmon canneries are located about $15 per ton. Concerns which charter vessels, however, handle their Alaskan shipping at costs ranging only from $2.50 to $4.40 per ton.

The bill submitted by Leechy would have imposed a license fee of $2 a ton on vessels touching Alaska—virtually shutting out all tramp or transient shipping to Alaska.

Neuralgic Pains

Give Way to Soothing Hamlin's Wizard Oil

Hamlin's Wizard Oil is a safe and effective treatment for headache and neuralgia. Rubbed in where the pain is, it acts as a tonic to the tortured nerves and almost invariably brings quick relief.

Its healing, antiseptic qualities can always be relied upon to prevent infection, or other serious results, from sprains, bruises, cuts, burns, bites and stings. Just as good, too, for sore feet, stiff neck, frost bites, cold sores and canker sores.

Get it from druggists for 30 cents. If not satisfied return the bottle and get your money back.

Ever constipated or have sick headache? Just try Wizard Liver Pills, pleasant little pink pills, 30 cents. Guaranteed.
